

AFHRA Electronic Document Request Form

To request and receive electronic archival documents from the Air Force Historical Research Agency (AFHRA), you must fill out all the blocks on this form. Please know that you may request and receive up to 5 documents every 30 days. Moreover, any documents created, accessioned, or published after the year 1950 may require a security review to determine whether said documents contain any classified or privileged information. And for those requests that require a security review, you must wait until said security review is completed before making an additional electronic document request. This is in addition to the 30-day requirement between electronic document requests.

There are no charges for fees associated with making an electronic document request to AFHRA. However, AFHRA has up to 120 business days to respond to any individual electronic document request. Additionally, due to Department of Defense (DoD) instructions concerning Classified and Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI), AFHRA cannot release any documents or files that are marked Classified, CUI, or contain any other privileged markings, nor can AFHRA unilaterally extract any unclassified portions of the documents for release. You may either email the form to AFHRA.NEWS@us.af.mil for processing or mail your request to the following: AFHRA/RSA, 600 Chennault Circle, Maxwell AFB, AL 36112-6424.
